

HOLIDAYS FROM AROUND THE WORLD

BRIGHT STAR TOURING THEATRE

A NATIONALLY TOURING PROFESSIONAL THEATRE FOR YOUNG AUDIENCES

About our Production!

The holidays are a special time for children and families all around the world. In this production, we've scoured the globe for some of the most unique holiday traditions from the winter season; from the Dragon Dance of Chinese New Year to the bright and colorful Junakanoo festival in the Bahamas. We've also included many of the traditions celebrated here in the United States from Christmas to Kwanzaa to the Festival of Lights!

The Story of Holidays from Around the World

In Holidays from Around the World, young audiences will hear traditional songs, learn about a variety of customs, and experience many different cultures. All the while, the most important lessons of the holidays are brought to life; that the true spirit of the holidays lies in giving, sharing, kindness, and spending time with friends and loved ones.

A play is like a story which happens right in front of the audience. Seeing a play is a great opportunity to learn about the parts of a play, and the parts of a story.

Before students watch the play, encourage them to look for the answers to these questions:

What is the main conflict or problem in the play? Is it resolved at the end? If so, how?

What is the setting of the play? Where does it take place?

Who are the main characters in the play? Who is the story about?

Actors are the people who perform in the play. Ask students to remember their favorite thing one of the actors did or said.

HOLIDAY TRADITIONS: EVERY FAMILY HAS SPECIAL HOLIDAY TRADITIONS; FROM YUMMY DISHES TO CHRISTMAS SWEATERS. HAVE STUDENTS DRAW OR WRITE ABOUT ONE OF THEIR FAMILY'S UNIQUE TRADITIONS.

HOLIDAY FRIENDSHIP CHALLENGE: HAVE STUDENTS INTERVIEW EACH OTHER AND REPORT ON THE HOLIDAY TRADITIONS OF THEIR PEERS!

HOLIDAY STORIES:

TAKE A TRIP TO THE SCHOOL OR LOCAL LIBRARY IN SEARCH OF THE BEST HOLIDAY STORIES. HAVE STUDENTS REPORT ON THEIR FAVORITE AND VOTE ON THE MOST UNIQUE PRESENTATION!

Magical Holiday Map

BEFORE SEEING THE PLAY...

Seeing a play is very different from watching a movie or watching TV.

For one thing the actors are real people who can here and see you. Here are some tips for being a great audience member so that the actors can do their best, and so you can get the most out of the play!

1. If something is funny, it's okay to laugh.
2. If the actors ask you to participate or respond, feel free to do so!
3. Please be quiet and respectful during the performance so you can see and hear the story, and so those around you can see and hear too!
4. If you like the play, be sure to clap at the end.
5. Use your imagination, have fun, and enjoy the story!

AFTER SEEING THE PLAY...

In Holidays from Around the World, we learn all about different holidays at Hunter and Desire's family party.

-Using a map of the world, find all of the places talked about in the show and mark each one. Use this list to help you remember.

- Grandma lives in the United States and celebrates Hanukkah.
- Grandpa shared the story of Kwanzaa, which is celebrated in the USA, Canada, and the Caribbean.
- Aunt Margie is from Sweden, and celebrates St. Lucia Day.
- Dad visited China, and learned all about The Chinese New Year.
- Aunt Joy and Uncle Timmy live in the USA and celebrate Christmas.
- Hunter learned all about Junkanoo, which originated in the Bahamas, at school.
- Desire taught us all about Bodhi Day, Muharram, Eid-Al-Adha-it, and Solstice, which are celebrated all over the world.
- Uncle Max introduced Diwali and Lohri, which are celebrated in India.
- McDuff told us all about Hogmanay, a Scottish celebration.

MAKE YOUR OWN MAGICAL MAP OF HOLIDAYS!

There are hundreds of holidays celebrated around the world that we didn't have time to talk about in the play. Find out about a holiday that was not talked about in Holidays Around the World. Find the answers to the following questions:

- Where is this holiday celebrated?
- What special things to people do on this holiday?
- Do they eat any special foods?
- Are there any symbols or special items used for this holiday? (Flags, candle holders, special gifts, etc).
- Can you find any pictures of people celebrating this holiday in a book or on the internet?

When you have your answers, share them with the class. Make sure to mark each destination on a large map of the world. As a class, you will have your own magical holiday map!

Classroom Activities

*Write your own review of the play! What did you like about it? What was your favorite moment? What character did you like best? If you had written or directed this play, would you have done anything differently?

*Write a letter to Santa, or another holiday hero of your choice...as an added challenge, try asking for a gift for someone else instead of yourself.

*Make a New Year's Resolution. Try to make this something that improves your health or makes you a better person!

*List all of the holidays you can think of that are celebrated in the United States. Because there are so many cultures here, there are many different holiday traditions!

*Write a letter to a friend or family member telling them why you are grateful to spend time with them during the holidays. OR draw them a picture of your time together.

*Make some holiday crafts as a class. For example you can make a dreidel from paper for Hanukkah, a string of African flags for Kwanzaa, a snowflake from white paper, or make your own Junkanoo instrument from items around the classroom or house.

Discussion Points

1. The most important thing about the holidays isn't gifts. What are the most important things about the holidays to you?

2. Why do you think its important to learn about holidays that people celebrate in other countries or cultures?

3. Who or what is your favorite holiday hero? Rudolph, Santa, St. Lucia, a loved one, a religious figure?

4. Bring in your favorite holiday item for show and tell.

This could be a stocking, an ornament, a snow globe, or anything small enough to fit in your backpack that is special to you!

INVENT YOUR OWN HOLIDAY!!

Imagine that you are the inventor of a brand new holiday-one the world has never heard of before. Make sure the holiday celebrates something you love-like National Puppy Appreciation Day, Dance Party Day, or Bake a friend a Cake Day. Consider the following questions and write or draw about them!

1. What does your holiday celebrate?
2. What do people do on this special day?
3. Are there any special foods people eat?
4. Are there certain symbols (like the Christmas tree or the Menorah) that are used during your holiday?
